The measure adopted by the Senate Wednesday was passed unanimously by the House today.

BERLIN STREET RIOTS

Spartacan Revolt Gives Way Under Fire of Machine Guns—Liebknecht's Men Ejected From Most of Public Buildings.

London, Jan. 10.—While the Spartacan revolt in Berlin appears to have been quelled by arrival of loyal troops, rushed to the city by Chancellor Ebert, dispatches received today showed the rebels still on the aggressive in other German cities. Reports were conflicting.

Spartacans, after seizing the Reichstag building and other public edifices, failed to take the chancellor's palace, in which the Ebert government has its offices, dispatches said. Later the Ebert forces ejected Liebknecht's men from most of the buildings they had captured, according to these advices. Fighting was especially severe around the Silesian railway station.

Spartacan riots were reported dwindled in violence after a bitter machine gun struggle in which the civilian population suffered heavily.

Outbreaks were noted in Essen, Dresden, and other centers. A Copenhagen dispatch said there was rioting in Munich.

The Hague, Jan. 10.—The Spartacan movement is spreading through the industrial region in Rhenish, Westphalia, a dispatch from Dusseldorf reported today.

According to a dispatch from Weimar, a meeting of all Thuringian trade, handicraft, and agricultural unions on January 5 decided to create a federal republic for all the Thuringian states, with Erfurt as the capital.

Amsterdam, Jan. 10.—All foreigners in Berlin are safe, said a wireless dispatch from that city today. Many have taken refuge in the neutral legations. Government troops are protecting them.

BERGER MAY GET SALARY

Seat in Congress Cannot be Declared Vacant Till Regular Session

Washington, Jan. 10.—A penitentiary convict drawing salary as a member of the Congress of the United States is the possible situation created by the conviction of Victor Berger in Chicago, Wednesday, on a charge of conspiracy to violate the espionage law.

In the November elections Berger was elected to the House from the Fifth district of Wisconsin. He holds the certificate of election under which he will automatically become a member of the House on March 4, when the next Congress comes into being. His salary and status as a Congressman will continue until the House formally unseats him.

Although the House is the sole judge of the qualifications of its members, and has plenary powers to unseat any member on merely personal grounds if no charges have been presented against him, it can not take such action, it was agreed, except when Congress is in session.

Members of the House were generally inclined to maintain an open mind with regard to Berger until opportunity was had for a Congressional investigation of the charges of disloyalty. Now that he has been convicted in a Federal court, sentiment appears to have undergone a change, and unless he secures a new trial nad is acquitted, his seat will be declared vacant.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Milwaukee Socialists are planning a national campaign to win an appeal for Representative-elect Victor L. Berger, and four co-defendants convicted Wednesday in Federal court of espionage act violation, it is announced.

Berger now faces a contest for his seat in Congress, T. P. Carney, Democrat, whom he defeated by 3,000 votes for Representative in the recent election, has filed complaint, basing his claims to office on the fact of Berger's indictment and conviction.

"If Congress heeds this complaint and decides there must be a re-election in my district, I shall run again and be elected again," said Berger last night.

STRIKE IN NEW YORK

Seventy-five Thousand Men Idle—Government May Take Over Harbor Facilities.

New York, Jan. 10.—New York harbor last night continued in the grip of the tightest strike tie-up in its history. With the exception of the Hoboken-Manhattan ferries of the Lackawanna Company, a few non-union transfer lines to out-of-the-way points, and government craft the bay and rivers are free of harbor boats.

Arriving liners ride at anchor in the rivers, unable to secure tugs to tow them to their piers. Greater New York is not expected to suffer any immediate hardship as the result of the strike of 15,000 marine workers which went into effect at 6 a. m. yesterday, but large shipments of foodstuffs for New England, Europe and Southern States are being held in port by the tie-up. Nearly 75,000 men are idle as the result of the strike. Staten Island is practically cut off from the rest of the harbor as a result of the discontinuing of the municipal ferry from the battery to St. George.

The strike was expected to spread rapidly to other marine workers. The International Longshoremen's Association met early yesterday to take steps in sympathy with the marine workers' affiliation.

The government will take over and operate the harbor facilities at New York as a war measure if the marine workers and the Boat Owners' Association fail to reach an adjustment of their differences within a short time, according to statements made in official quarters here last night.

RICHMOND THEATRE

Bryant Washburn's second Paramount photoplay, "The Way of a Man With a Maid," which is being displayed at the Richmond Theatre today, is in every respect a delightful photoplay.

There are few screen comedians whose popularity exceeds that enjoyed by Fatty Arbuckle. His genial smil and portly frame are as familiar to screen patrons throughout the country as in any other notable who is prominent in the public eye. In his new comedy, "The Sheriff," which is the extra attraction at the Richmond tonight. Mr. Arbuckle is a remarkable western official whose feats of daring are as wonderful as they are entertaining.

TO FLY ACROSS OCEAN

Italian Planning Airship Capable of Carrying 100 Passengers

"Transatlantic flight is easily possible now, providing weather conditions are favorable and I expect to make such a flight very shortly. Within a year or more it ought to be an easy thing to cross the Atlantic by airplane, no matter what the weather conditions are."

With one hand affectionately patting his new triplane, Gianni Caproni made the foregoing prophecy as lightly as if he were predicting a flight to Paris.

It was in his big factory in Milan that the interview took place, and the machine before him was the one he is building in the hope of crossing the Atlantic. It is all ready for assembly, including the pontoons, to float it, in case of accident.

This particular machine Caproni expects to man with twenty hands. But this, he says, is merely to be a freak flight. When he gets ready for trans-Atlantic trade he is going to build his fliers big enough to carry ninety to a hundred persons.

The machine now building is a triplane more than 150 feet wide when the wings are spread, and with an enclosed house capable of shielding the passengers and crew in any weather. It is already equipped with three Liberty motors, so arranged that any two will be able to make good progress and any one keep the machine in the air.

The inventor says the Liberty motor is the best airplane engine with which he has experimented. Nearby stood a machine with an enclosed cabin, which had spent all afternoon flying low over Milan in honor of the President's visit.

ANOTHER FRIGID WAVE

Winter is a gate that swings
Tight around to close us in.

The comparatively mild weather of the early part of the week was followed yesterday by colder conditions. The wind changed to the northwest about the close of the day and snow flurries visited the city. The wind gained in velocity and at times came in heavy flaws. The mercury was falling in the meantime, and at seven o'clock this morning was down to twelve degrees above zero. Considerable ice formed in the river during the night. Shortly after midnight the force of the wind diminished, and today the weather has been clear and cold.

Alexandria and vicinity is in for a frigid period for the next day or so, according to the weather forecast. A cold wave, brought by strong southwest winds and heralded by the snow flurry yesterday afternoon, is due to arrive today. A drop of 10 degrees in the mercury is threatened for tomorrow.

No more snow is in sight and the weather is expected to remain fair, but the weather bureau gives no hope of immediate moderation. Storm warnings have been issued from New York to Hatteras.

As is generally the case, a blizzard augments orders for coal. The dealers report that their stocks are ample to meet ordinary requirements, but that they experience great difficulty in procuring laborers and teamsters to deliver this essential This has been the case during the past few months.

WOULD CHANGE HIS NAME

William Frank Kasianowiscz, a clerk in the office of the Adjutant General of the War Department, asked the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia yesterday to allow him to change his name. Kasianowiscz is a naturalized American, he states, and wants a name to conform to American ideas and asks the court to allow him to change too William Frank Lane.

While the war between the states was in progress a good-natured German, a music teacher, yclept Joseph Foertsch, resided in Alexandria Foertsch was a pronounced union man and was ever ready to proclaim his allegiance to the United States. One day a friend addressed him as follows: "Look here, Foertsch, why don't you become a federal soldier and fight for the union?"

The German answered: "Suppose I should become a soldier, I know I be shot and my name would be spelled wrong in the casualty list."

THE SILENT FOCH

A story told by the Right Reverend John N. McCormick, Bishop of Western Michigan, who lately returned from France, gives an inspiring glimpse into the character of the silent Foch, supreme commander of the allied forces.

Bishop McCormick says that an American boy, "having a little time off one afternoon, wandered into a little church which had been spared by the German guns. He walked in slowly and wandered about, looking at the beautiful windows, examining the lovely outlines of an edifice which had stood for more than two centuries.

"Just as he was about to leave he saw a man in a general's uniform enter the church and, going up to the chancel, kneel down to pray. The boy waited in the shadow. He stood there quietly and watched the kneeling soldier, he had not said his prayers for a long time himself, although he sometimes said little silent ones to himself out there under the black sky when shells were bursting.

"At last the officer arose and went out. The boy looked at his watch. For forty-five minutes that man in the uniform of high war honors had knelt. The boy followed him to the street. He saw that his hair was white.

"Who was that?" he asked an old woman who had bowed and smiled as the general passed.

"That was General Foch," she told him proudly."

The Richmond Virginian, commenting upon the above, says "now we understand some things not clear before. The great military genius, with all his knowledge of the vast and intricate problems of the war and with unlimited authority over the lives of millions of his fellow men found wisdom and strength at the same great Source which is accessible to all; and was enabled to carry on his work to ultimate success through reliance on that Power which is ever on the side of right."

SUICIDE OF A FARMER

Cleveland Sweeney, in a Moment of Despondency, Due to Ill Health, Takes His Own Life.

Cleveland Sweeney, a farmer residing at Bacon Race, in the lower part of Prince William county committed suicide on Tuesday morning, between 1 and 2 o'clock, by shooting himself through the right lung. Mr. Sweeney had been a sufferer for a long time from tuberculosis, and it is thought in a momentary aberation of mind, committed the rash act.

While the family were all down stairs, he procured a shotgun, placed the stock upon the window sill and then with the aid of a stick from a window curtain touched the trigger, shooting himself through the lung and dying immediately.

The deceased leaves a wife and four children.—(Manassas Democrat.

LUSITANIA LURED TO FATE

Ill-Fated Cunarder Received a Decoy Message—Other Charges Against German Agents.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The senate committee which is investigating the large expenditures of German money for propaganda work in the United States hear two things of exceptional interest.

They were:

That the Lusitania was lured to her fate by a decoy wireless message sent by the German submarine that sunk her, the message being in the British Radio code, a copy of which had been secretly obtained from a Canadian by Von Papen the German agent.

That during the summer of 1915, German interests in this country financed the Villa revolution in Mexico to the extent of $380,000 by shipments of ammunition to Villa's agents in El Paso, purchased from the Western Cateridge Company of Alton, Ills.

The testimony concerning the Lusitania was given by Gaston B. Means, erstwhile business agent for the wealthy Mrs. Maude A. King, who met a strange death at Concord, N. C. in the summer of 1917. He admitted that he had been a confidential agent of Captain Boy-Ed, that he had access to his books and records, and that Boy-Ed entrusted to him his file of confidential papers when he was sent out of this country.

AVERTED DANGER TO KAISER

Advised to Visit Battle Front But Chief of Staff Refused Consent

Dramatic capture of the Kaiser or possibly his death on the field of battle was averted only by the intervention of Ludendorff, it was learned through authoritative diplomatic disclosures in Washington yesterday.

Wilhelm's arrival at German general headquarters after his flight from Berlin was the signal for a revival of the spirit of the discouraged German troops, according to the disclosure. Several high staff men suggested that the Kaiser go into the midst of the battle, it is stated and the suggestion was taken up by the Prussian guards and other staunch Teuton legions.

Ludendorff opposed the scheme it is declared, on the ground that it would result in no military gain and would endanger the army's withdrawal.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The dignity of Grand Officer of the Legion of Honor was conferred on Gen. Peyton C. March, Chief of Staff-U. S. A., by the French government yesterday.

Great Britain, it is learned, has informed Turkey that the Dardanelles will be forthwith destroyed unless the Turks in Medina surrender immediately. Medina is in Arabia, 25 miles northwest of Mecca.

Several revolver shots were fired at M. Kramarcks, the Czecho-Slovak premier, in an attempt to assassinate him according to a dispatch from Prague. He was not struck. One bullet penetrated his portifolio. The would-be assassin, an 18 year old boy, was arrested.

Continuous airship service between England and America in the near future is predicted by Major General F. H. Sykes, chief of the British air staff. As an instance of what has already been accomplished, he cites the fact that a Zeppelin was four days in the air without landing.

A direct slap at the President was taken by Republican Congressmen yesterday, the Democrats charge. This blow took the form of successful opposition to the House Rules Committee reporting out a special rule for consideration of the bill carrying out the President's cabled request for $100,000,000 to feed the starving peoples of Europe.

Instead of being taken to the police station, locked up over night and given a hearing next day, all married men found on the streets of Uniontown, Pa., intoxicated will be taken to their homes to be punished by their wives, according to an edict of Mayor Carr. The city executive has instructed the police to begin the new method at once.

The rising waters of the Seine now seriously threaten to knock sky-high the plans for the peace preliminaries at the French foreign office. The river continues to rise, with no sign of abatement. The great railway station of the Quai d'Orsay, only a quarter of a mile from the foreign office is inundated. The lower tracks of the suburban station, within a stone's throw of the foreign office, is submerged and service has had to be abandoned.

Plans for the invasion of Canada by a "German G. A. R." from this country, was revealed yesterday by A. Bruce Bielaski, chief of the Department of Justice bureau of investigaion, at the hearing of the Senate Judiciary subcommittee investigating German propaganda. He stated that investigations had found a scret German organization, the Kriegerbund, with branches scattered throughout the entire United States and composed of men who had seen service with the Imperial German army.

The will of Theodore Roosevelt was read to members of the family of the former President at Sagamore Hill yesterday. No announcement of the contents of the document was made public. It is understood that the estate, valued at not more than $500,000 has been left to Mrs. Roosevelt unconditionally. The silver and plate of the family is to be divided among the children. The trust fund of $60,000 inherited by Theodore Roosevelt from his father, is to be divided equally among the Roosevelt children.

LIEBKNECHT KILLED?

German Leader Said to Have Been Shot Down During a Street Battle.

Copenhagen, Jan. 10.—Dr. Karl Liebknecht is reported to have been killed. He is said to have been shot down during a street battle between Bolshevik Socialists and government troops.

There is no confirmation of the report.

Berlin is in a state of siege. The local newspaper, Berlinger Tidende, learns there was violent fighting in Berlin Wednesday night in which the Spartacides were beaten, the government troops occupying all public buildings. Thousands of government troops are still entering the capital, where the situation was comparatively quiet today, according to the dispatch.

The newspaper Politiken learns from Munich that there are grave Spartacus riots raging in Dresden, Braunschweig, Duesseldorf, Essen and Dortmund. Several towns in the Ruhr districts are completely in Bolshevist hands.

A mob is reported to have pillaged the Munich Cathedral.

Fighting in the streets of Berlin Wednesday resulted in heavy casualties. Grenades, machine guns, and artillery were employed in Wilhelmstrasse and Unter den Linden.

There was a revolt at Spandau, where the third regiment of guards, picked troops of the former imperial army, were surrounded by Spartican troops, and surrendered.

The situation in Munich is reported serious. Mobs are plundering the banks.

The Spartican revolution is spreading to all parts of Germany, dispatches from various European sources indicated today.

The Ebert-Scheidemann government was reported overthrown. Karl Liebknecht and Georg Ledebour, leaders respectively of the Spartacan and Independent Socialists are said to have set up a new government in the Berlin police station.

Contradictory reports said that the Ebert-Sheidemann government is still safely in control and is gradually subduing the revolt.

NOTE SAYS FORMER CZAR STILL LIVES

Archangel, Jan. 10.—Information from several sources which appear to link that Nicholas Romanoff, former Czar of Russia, and his family are alive.

On November 18 last a letter was received by the Russian Grand Duke Cyril from the former Grand Duchess Tatiana, one of the former Czar's daughters, in which she said that the former empress and her daughters are alive and that the ex-Czar has not been shot.

When the Bolsheviki ordered Nicholas shot, Count T—offered to lay down his life, Nicholas for a time objected, but finally consented. The ex-Czar then escaped.

OFFICER HIT BY ENGINE

Cumberland, Md., Jan. 10.—W. F. Porter, of Huntington, W. Va., a State prohibition offier was struck and killed by an engine on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at the Baltimore street crossing here yesterday morning. He was knocked clear of the rear end and his head badly cut. He carried a suit case filled with liquor which it is understood he had confiscated on the train which brought him here. Only one of the bottles was broken.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Samuel W. Meeks, former business manager of The Times-Dispatch, of Richmond, died Wednesday at his home in New York City, after a year's intermittent illness from colonitis.

Among the soldiers released from German prison camps and hospital and returned to France and reported in the War Department list are the following from Virginia: Asa Whitlock, Olaf; Edwin P. New, Purcellville; Mack Trent, Cedar Bluff; and George Hodge, Williamsville.

The Virginia coast last night was rapidly falling into the grip of what is expected to be a severe storm. In two hours last night the wind had added fifteen miles an hour to its velocity and is steadily increasing in force. Observers report rough sea is rapidly developing. The wind at 10 o'clock was 40 miles an hour.

The transport Finland arrived at Newport News yesterday from France with 3400 troops, including 100 sick and wounded. The Second Battalion of the 345th Infantry and headquarters of the 173d Infantry Brigade, who will be sent to Camp Dix, N. J., and Brigadier General Martin, of the Eighty-seventh Division, came home on the ship.

The Farmer's Educational and Co-Operative Union of America plans the erection in Washington of a monster temple of agriculture to cost $1,250,000, the Virginia union, in sesion in Lynchburg yesterday was told by C. S. Barrett, the national president. An endowment fund of $8,500,000 is also planned. The State union indorsed the plan and pledged financial support.

Major Cyrus Wiley Grandy, one of Norfolk's most prominent citizens, widely known throughout Virginia and North Carolina as a banker and financier, and a veteran of the civil war, died last night, in his eighth year. Major Grandy served with distinction in the Confederate army with the Eighth North Carolina regiment and on the staff of Gen. Robert E. Lee. He was a native of Camden county, N. C.

Engineer James J. O'Neil and Fireman Albert Ritchie were killed when a Chesapeake and Ohio freight train was derailed near Hardware, seventy-three miles west of Richmond, Tuesday night. Engineer O'Neil did not die until he had been carried within a few miles of Richmond, while Fireman Ritchie was killed instantly. Washout of the embankment under the rails is claimed to be the cause of the wreck. The engine and eight freight cars turned over. Engineer O'Neill and Fireman Ritchie resided in Richmond.

Certificates of homicide and suicide were signed by the coroner in Los Angeles, Cal., yesterday in the case of Mrs. Lucille R. Carroll, who was shot and killed Wednesday night by Sidney S. Johnson, and in the case of her assailant. The shooting occurred at the woman's home. Johnson left a note alleging that Mrs. Carroll, who was divorced, had declined his attentions. Mrs. Carroll was the divorced wife of I. H. Carroll, a prominent business man of Lynchburg, the final decree having been entered only a few months ago. Mrs. Carroll was a native of Colorado.

Judge William A. Moncure, of the chancery court in Richmond, yesterday rendered a decision in the suit of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia against the American National Bank, the case being a claim for $17,000 growing out of an alleged forgery, which William B. Pizzini, a real estate dealer, who disappeared in December, 1917, perpetrated upon the plaintiff by placing signatures of alleged borrowers on a deed of trust conveying Broad street property. Judge Moncure held that the bank is not liable for any part of the $17,000 lost by the insurance company by Pizzini's false representations, fraud and forgery.
